When you notice cats outdoors, they are either neighbors’ pets, lost or abandoned pets, or feral cats. Feral cats are the “wild” offspring of domestic cats. Kittens that grow up outdoors without human contact are naturally fearful and inclined to stay away from people.

Feral cats are the result of owner abandonment and failure to spay and neuter pets. Colonies of cats can be found behind shopping malls or businesses; in alleys, parks, and abandoned buildings; in urban as well as rural areas; across the country and around the world.

- Cats are generally able to reproduce at five to seven months of age.
- Pregnancy in nine weeks in duration.
- Each litter contains an average of 2-6 kittens.
- In one year, at least 12 cats can be produced by one unaltered female.

Why are there so many?

Moving

Many cats have become feral due to being abandoned or escaping from their owners care. It is important to be thoughtful about your pets needs.

- Make a plan for moving with your pet ahead of time.
- Contain your cat and watch open doors to prevent escape.

Common Problems

Cats are sleeping under my house.

Cats sleeping under a house, in a shed, or other locations are seeking a warm, dry, safe, shelter from the elements.

- Physically block or seal the location the cats are entering with chicken wire or lattice when they are sure the cats are not there. Provide shelters for the cats.

Cats are getting into my trash.

Cats and many wild animals are opportunistic scavengers.

- Scavenging can be reduced by providing regular food for the cats at a set time and in an out-of-the-way location.
- Keep trash properly covered and secured to avoid attracting raccoons, skunks, and possums, in addition to cats.

Resolving Problems

Be part of the solution by:

- Having your cat spayed or neutered
- Not letting your cat go outdoors without supervision.
- Keeping your cat current on all vaccinations.
- Ensuring your cat can be identified, with either a collar and tag or a microchip.

Feral Cats within City Limits

Persons living within the city limits of Oak Harbor must follow the city’s municipal code, which prohibits anyone from owning more than three cats OR three dogs. All animals must be licensed.

Feral cat populations may not be supported within the city limits of Oak Harbor.

Removal Options

- Feral cats maybe trapped, and taken to an appropriate location for euthanasia.
- Programs are available to have feral cats spayed and neutered. The cat will then be returned to the person who trapped the animal.
- Oak Harbor municipal code applies to all animals, including feral cats.

Prevention

Animal Overpopulation

This is a huge problem in our country. It is unfair to the animals and unhealthy for our community. Before you get a pet, do your research and consider adopting from a shelter or rescue organization. There are so many unwanted pets out there that need good homes. Don’t add to the problem of overpopulation... Please spay or neuter your pets
